

Resource Guide for Networking

Different tools to be a better networker.

Toastmasters – A good resource if being in groups and speaking in public is an issue and you want to grow in learning how to be comfortable in groups and public speaking. <https://www.toastmasters.org/>

Our Forum is a god place to introduce yourself online and make some connections without unwelcomed solicitations.

LinkedIn – While we do hate the solicitations and sales with this site, it is still good to have a profile and check it periodically. Even with the downside it is a powerful way to stay connected to influencers and professional colleagues. <https://www.linkedin.com/>

Facebook – This is more on the social side but it is still a way to be out and have a way for people to connect with you. They do offer some groups that may be beneficial. <https://www.facebook.com/>

Book – Dale Carnegie’s “How win Friends & influence People “ a classic book with timeless wisdom. <http://www.amazon.com/How-Win-Friends-Influence-People/dp/0671027034>

These five resources are a great place to start and help you learn and grow in the area of networking. If interested email us at editor@facilityvip.com if you would like any further book recommendations or ideas or specific questions that we can help with on this topic. In the future we may delve into this topic at a more advance level.